Final Goals

Please help us facilitate your goals by reading the following material and checking the appropriate box.

1. Certification as an ACPI Certified Coach for Parents in establishing my home-based business. Completing your course selection requirements and tuition fees and receiving your certificate accomplish this.
2. Licensed ACPI Instructor or consultant in your community. Some persons who love ACPI courses and have solid track records as teachers and consultants have asked to teach using the ACPI materials. This is accomplished by taking the course and applying for licensure, which is renewable annually. You receive course materials for trainers and participants and audio files of your course. Ancillary or new materials developed as ACPI products can provide you with residual income as an ACPI affiliate.
3. ACPI Infopreneur = Information Entrepreneur - ACPI occasionally offers a writer/publisher inner circle. Dr. Goode is the published author of fifteen books in the fields of education, child development, parenting and spirituality. She continues to publish and she is also a passionate ghostwriter for others (50 books so far). Infopreneurs are invited to join an inner circle of dedicated persons, writers, who, individually or collaboratively produce information products as tip sheets, e-books, articles, books, podcasts (and the like) to sell on web sites and in their private work. This is a specific group taught and led by Goode for those who have writing skills, something to say, and those who want to be published and earn residual income in the field of parenting and parent coaching. This may involve fees for teaching, transcriptions of your work, and possibly editing or ghostwriting.
4. ACPI Effective Marketing Group - ACPI will form an inner circle marketing group of ACPI Certified Coaches who intend a commitment to grow their practice and focus on marketing skills. This group is for sharing, feedback and DOING marketing and public relations for YOU! This involves teleconference meetings twice a month (to be agreed upon by group members), which enhance your exposure as a parent coach, consultant, or ACPI Instructor. There may be minimal monthly fee, to be determined by group numbers and participation.
